

Google Meet video calls to now adapt to internet speed at home

New Delhi, Google has released new Chrome OS updates that will help students run video calls at home while they're using apps like Google Classroom, Docs, Sheets, Slides and other tools, regardless of the device or the strength of their internet connections.

The update will help students as they're using the same networks as their parents, guardians and siblings, putting heavy demand on bandwidth.

Google Meet will now adapt to the speed of your network by temporarily turning off some video feeds, to make sure you're not interrupted if many people are using your connection at the same time.

"Making sure devices can handle video conferences all day while running various apps and software that require a lot of power is incredibly important. That's why we've been focused on improving Chromebooks," Google said in a statement on Thursday.

In Chrome OS, Google has improved how Meet videos are streamed.

The improvements will make it easier for educators and students to choose a feature like grid view, where they can see images of other Meet attendees without affecting the performance of other apps.

"So if students are taking notes in a Google Doc while in a Meet, or running a Kahoot! game at the same time, they'll be able to see everyone," Google said.

The company has also improved Chromebooks' camera and video feed performance and efficiency by making sure that audio and video data don't require any unnecessary processing.

"We're working on making Google Meet adapt more intelligently to your device, your network and what you're working on".

Educators and learners who use Zoom will also see performance improvements during their videoconferences.

Google and Zoom engineering teams have been working together on service enhancements for Chrome devices.

"Just like Meet, Zoom will adjust video performance based on devices in use and what participants are using their devices to do," Google said.

Das urges policy action to keep petro products, industrial raw material prices under check

Mumbai, Reserve Bank of India (RBI) Governor Shaktikanta Das on Friday put onus on both the Centre and states to ensure through concerted policy measures that current cost build in petroleum products and industrial raw materials does not escalate further.

Without directly seeking a cut in excise and VAT levies, the RBI Governor said that petroleum product prices have reached historic highs as international crude prices surged in recent months and "the high indirect taxes remain", both in the Centre and states.

Petrol and fiscal prices in the country has reached historic high levels. Apart from global movement in crude prices, high indirect taxes on the two products have contributed to its retail prices getting elevated.

In a video statement after the Monetary Policy Committee's bi-monthly meet, Das said the spike in petro product prices, along with the sharp increase in industrial raw material prices have resulted in a broad-based increase in prices of services and manufacturing products in recent months.

This if not checked through policy action by governments, Das indicated could have a bearing on inflation that has showed signs of easing.

The RBI had build the recent cost pressure coming into various sectors while giving its outlook on inflation. It has revised CPI inflation projection to 5.2 per cent for Q4:2020-21, 5.2 per cent to 5.0 per cent in H1:2021-22 and 4.3 per cent for Q3:2021-22, with risks broadly balanced.

After breaching the upper tolerance threshold continuously since June 2020, CPI inflation moved below 6 per cent in December 2020 for the first time in the post-lockdown period, supported by favourable base effects and a sharp fall in key vegetable prices, the latter accounting for around 90 per cent of the decline in headline inflation during November and December 2020.

Both higher fresh arrivals and active supply side interventions contributed to this favourable development, Das said.

It is expected that vegetable prices will remain soft in the near-term, while pressures may continue to persist in certain key food items, he said.

Banking stocks power bull run, Nifty50 crosses 15k pts mark

Mumbai, A massive surge in Banking stocks lifted India's equity indices during the morning trade session on Friday with the NSE Nifty50 crossing the 15,000 points mark. Amongst sectoral indices, interest rate sensitive stocks such as banking, auto and capital goods rose before the announcement of the final monetary policy review of 2020-21. Consequently, the NSE Nifty50 crosses the 15,000 points mark during the session, but receded afterwards. At 9.50 a.m., the S&P BSE Sensex traded at 50,895.58, higher by 281.29 points or 0.56 per cent from its previous close of 50,255.75. FY22 GDP growth seen at 10.5%: RBI Gover Mumbai, After an estimated contraction in the current financial year, India's GDP is expected to grow at 10.5 per cent in FY2021-22, said RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das on Friday. In a video statement after the Monetary Policy Committee's bi-monthly meet, Das said that growth in the first half of FY22 is projected to be in the range of 8.3-26.2 per cent and 6 per cent in the third quarter. The robust growth projection for the coming fiscal comes on the back of the low base in the current financial year, which has been largely hit by the pandemic and the eventual lockdowns. He said that growth outlook has improved significantly with positive impulses becoming more broad-based, adding that 2021 is setting stage for new economic era. On inflation, Das said that the central bank's near-term outlook for inflation in the country is stable.
